Importing Goods to Norway

Importing Personal Effects

You can import your used household effects duty free, provided that you have owned them for at least a year prior to arrival. When importing your personal effects to Norway, you will need a copy of your passport, a detailed inventory in English and Norwegian, and a completed Norwegian customs declaration form. Britannia will advise you of the specific requirements prior to your move.

If you're importing your belongings by shared load (groupage), all consignments will be bar coded before they are loaded into the shipping container. This will ensure that no items are left at origin and will allow Britannia to check the status of your goods in transit.

Transit Times

Transit times can vary subject to the method of transport chosen, size of your consignment and the final destination. Britannia will be able to advise you of timings once this information is established.

Documentation

Documentation required should be merely a copy of your passport, and detailed inventory list in duplicate (Norwegian, English or German language only), and a completed Norwegian customs declaration form (RG-0124). Britannia will advise you of the requirements prior to your move.

Prohibitions and Restrictions

The following items are prohibited or restricted and we strongly advise you not to include them in your consignment:

- Firearms, ammunition & weapons
- Inflammable goods & substances
- Plants, plant material & animal products
- Foodstuffs, perishables or otherwise
- Alcohol, tobacco & narcotics
- Dangerous goods
- Objectionable, indecent and offensive material

Welcome to Britannia in Norway

Britannia in Norway

For many years Britannia has been providing an excellent door to door shipping and removal service to Norway and can either transport your effects by shared load (groupage) or by sole use container load. Household and personal effects can be transported to Norway in various ways: overland by road van, by sea containers or by air.

Storage

Should you require storage prior to delivery this can be arranged. You should expect to pay a one-off storage handling fee plus a monthly storage charge. Please note that these charges are payable locally.

It is vitally important that you ensure that your marine insurance policy is extended for the period of the storage.

Motor Vehicles

Motor vehicles can be imported to Norway; however they will be subject to special regulations and import duties and taxes, which are approximately 105% of the current value of the vehicle.

Additional Services

Britannia can provide a range of additional moving services when moving to Norway. We are authorised to provide comprehensive insurance, arrange international storage, help you with relocating your family pets, and can also recommend a convenient way to transfer your money.
